Teacher's Day Essay Contest The Greatest Teacher of All Thais

- A Tribute to Our Greatest Late King Rama IV -

Awards to be Granted

PC ACTIVITY AWARD ANNOUNCEMENT (Q1/2017)

Congratulations!

His Majesty King Bhumibol Adulyadej, the great King of Thailand. He had brought the light of hope to Thailand education in several ways.

By his efforts and selflessness, the generous King had dedicated himself to develop the education system of Thailand.

He had spread the education widely for all Thai students, especially in the remote area. To make the education be accessible throughout the country. The King was trying so hard for all activities that could be helpful for nation's education. Such as, going to provide books, writing instruments, and many more effective supplies to students in the remote area, at which the path was extremely horrible. However, he never gave up. Even if how the course was difficult, he still struggled to reach the destination all the time. That is why me and all Thais love him.

From my experience, since I was born, the very first word that I heard aside from mom and dad, the word "Ni-luang," had frequently run in through my head. At first, I didn't even know the meaning, but when people talked about hardship, sacrifices, and devotion, it often came along with a word "Ni-luang." Then I realized what the word means, It means "Our benevolent King."

I was also a student who were given objects from the King scheme, I got a notebook, which many people said it just a common notebook. At first, I agreed with them, but when I considered about this again. I figured out that it was not just an ordinary notebook, but it represented liberality. Why he had to spend his money to help many people? There was no necessity to do that at all; he could just stay in the palace and enjoy his convenient life without any struggling or hardship. However, the only one reason that he decided to sacrifice himself to many people is he needed Thai people to have happiness and peace in their life.

Consequently, I would like to inherit the King's intention. In my daily life, I will keep reminding myself to be a generous and kind person, and help people as much as I can. Finally, I am hopeful that there will be more people who carry on the same purpose like me, then we will work together to make this country better as our King wished.
